

Skipping Fall Duty Agreeable

Andover voters showed up in sufficient numbers at Monday night's town meeting and overwhelmingly decided to forego the necessity of this annual Fall exercise.

It took about a half hour to record the necessary 350 voters needed for a quorum, but once the meeting got underway shortly after 8 p.m., the business moved along well enough to permit a 10 p.m. adjournment and a completed agenda.

Repeal of the bylaw necessitating the calling of the October town meeting was strongly urged by selectmen and Finance Committee who pointed out prior to the meeting, that a special meeting could be called at any time by selectmen if necessary.

Items facing the Fall sessions in recent years have not been of sufficient import to spend the $4,000-$5,000 to set up an agenda and appeal for voter attendance, it had been pointed.

Stephen Flashenburg, of Launching Road, appealed to the voters to retain the Fall session, feeling some of the business from the annual meeting could be given more attention if put off to October.

But, the overwhelming majority of the voters agreed with municipal officials, and approved repealing the bylaw.

In other action, voters approved funds to continue the River Road reconstruction project, refused to rezone a parcel of land on North Main street, withdrew some articles, attended to energy conservation measures for town buildings and approved some zoning issues.

Possibly the most urgent matter on the agenda was the funding of the River Road widening project. The town will be reimbursed for the $304,308 it will cost to widen the road, but before it can be eligible for state and county funding, it must first spend the money. Town meeting passed the measure unanimously.

The rezoning of the land at 186 North Main St. as general business was voted down. The owner of the land wanted the property rezoned from being half residentially and half industrially zoned. Barron Realty Trust, the owner, intended to renovate the house on the property and use it for professional office space.

The planning board recommended against the rezoning, saying it would set a "serious precedent" for spot zoning.

Atty. Gerald Lewis, representing Barron Realty Trust, said the rezoning would not be spot zoning because properties near 186 North Main St. were "in fact" general business, even though they were operating either in noncompliance of the zoning bylaw or on variances granted by the zoning board of appeals.

Arthur Rourke, a neighbor living at 178-180 North Main St., said he favored the rezoning because it would encourage

The Falling Leaves: They're Your Problem

By Tim Greene

Last year it was the leash law, now it's the leaf law.

Town meeting voted Monday to outlaw the throwing, dropping or placing leaves in the street, but questions were raised about how enforceable the new regulation will be.

Harriet Ahouse, 175 High Plain Road, pointed up a few of the problems that might arise. If leaves from trees in her yard fell over the wall in front of her house, would she be responsible for their pick-up or would the town. "Are the leaves outside my wall my leaves or town leaves?" Would police come around to settle the problem? She called the new regulation "unforceable" and urged it be voted down.

She added that the storm drains near her house were already clogged with what she took to be town leaves, and that she had already cleared them herself. According to Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark, the department of public works will still collect leaves blocking drains.

Sidney P. White, 5 Argilla Road, also favored the retention of leaf collection. He said the two leaf vacuums the town has now could be repaired. One needs about $2000 in repairs, he said, while the other "needs a little tinkering and a new battery."

Edward Kaufman, 5 Miles Circle, wanted to know just how the town would determine if the leaf law is broken.

Clark told him that if piles of obviously raked leaves were left in the street for a prolonged period and became a nuisance, a summons would be issued.

Joseph Ruma, 5 Old School House Road, West Andover, asked if leaf collection would be extended to his neighborhood if the article failed. He said the leaf collection service should be extended to all areas of town, "not a select area in the center."

Selectman Chairman Edward M. Harris agreed. "Collection of leaves has been selective," he said. "I live in South Andover and I've never had a leaf picked up."

And, with the new bylaw on the books, he probably never will.

Teacher Evaluation Program Adopted

A new teacher evaluation program that seems to have the support of school administration and faculty alike, has gone into practice in Andover schools this fall.

Asst. Supt. Charles Mitsakos told the school board last Tuesday night that they feel so strongly that the tool, developed within the system over a two-year period and field tested last spring, will be successful, they've had it copyrighted.

Leading off the presentation, Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert said that the primary purpose of the evaluation program is improvement of instruction, and that it's "very, very heavily geared toward the relationship of teachers with the students."

However, he said, the rating of teachers would also be useful should reduction in force become necessary.

Mitsakos explained that the basic standards in the evaluation are cognitive clarity in a teacher's presentation to students, the generation of enthusiasm, excitement and interest in the classroom, variety in presentation, smooth operation of the classroom, involvement of students and positive student-teacher rapport.

Other basis for evaluation include appropriate preparation for class, ability to work with different levels of students, professional attitude and professional growth.

Mitsakos says the evaluation program allows "stroking those teachers who are doing well," but also for providing means of improvement for teachers who don't fare so well.

Tax Bills Due In November

Real estate tax bills won't be going out until sometime in November, with the setting of the tax rate probably coming the first part of the month.

The assessor's department and town accountant are currently preparing all the figures for presentation to the state department of Corporation and Taxation, in order to establish the tax rate for Fiscal 1979-'80. Once the rate is established, and approved by the state, bill preparations will begin.

Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark said this week that the bill preparation would be handled again this year by a service bureau, rather than the new, town-owned computer. The town's data processing unit is being programmed for other processes, as the machinery is moved toward total computerization of the town's accounting and billing, which takes time.

It is anticipated that there will be about a $2 increase in taxes this year.

Budget Preparation Underway

Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark has begun preparation of the municipal budget for fiscal 1980-'81.

The manager has been meeting with the administrative staff in reviewing figures for the coming year and determining needs.

Clark said this week's town meeting was helpful in providing the administration with direction in budget planning in that the mood appear to remain that officials give close scrutiny to municipal costs.

The budget is to be presented to the selectmen and finance committee by the third week in January.

Revenue Bonds Are Approved

The Massachusetts Industrial Finance Agency, has approved revenue bonds for the Cressey Dockham Co., in Lowell Junction for expansion of its facility. The Andover approval was among 28 granted by the MIFA totalling $28 million for expansion or improvements by industries.

Cressey Dockham & Company, Inc., One Parade Place, Andover, received approval for $2,750,000 to amend the resolution approved by the State Industrial Finance Board on Oct. 16, 1978 to reflect the reduction in size of the industrial project and the elimination of possible office expansion, to eliminate the purchase of real estate and to revise the estimated costs of the project.

The construction of a 128,000 square foot warehouse, improvements to an existing 335,000 square foot warehouse and the purchase of equipment is planned. This project was originally approved by the State Industrial Finance Board last fall and is currently 20 percent complete. Amendment was requested to reflect changes in project description and an increase of $412,000 in total project costs.

Employment is expected to increase by 25 to 40 jobs in the first five years following expansion. There are already 600 employees at this site.

Cressey, Dockham & Company was organized in 1946 and is involved in the distribution and sales of wholesale grocery items.

10 Chosen For Jury Duty

The names of ten Andover residents were chosen last Tuesday by selectmen to be placed on the jury roster.

Those chosen were: James P. Clark, 6 Eastman Road; Donald M. Gilman, 30B Colonial Road; Lucien F. Lussier, 40 Linwood St.; Brenda

L. Magane, 9 Howell Drive; David H. Norris, 1 Walnut Ave.; Joseph J. Palma, 14 Hansom Road; Marcia L. Regan, 78 Chestnut St.; Bernadette A. Ricci, 97 Haverhill St.; Craig T. Spires, 112 North Main St.; and Joseph F. Trepanier, 134 Chestnut St.

Non-College Bound Program Approved

The school committee took another step last week toward providing a relevant education for students who are not headed on to college.

They approved two new positions in the occupational education area: a program advisor, who would take over duties of the business education department head as well as new ones and a teacher for a new food management program.

Asst. Supt. Charles Mitsakos said the positions represent a real attempt on the part of the high school administration to address the 30 percent of students who don't pursue further education.

They continue a thrust toward vocational education started with the state-funding distributive education program last year.

The proposed two-year food management program, which could get underway next term if the position is filled, would provide juniors and seniors with some 700 hours of training. The students would eventually prepare a daily luncheon for members of the staff interested in participating, and on occasion could serve guests, elderly or the like. The luncheon would be self-supporting.

Topics to be covered in the training program include career opportunities and job skills, nutrition and menu planning, food preparation, buying food and supplies, dining room decor, stewardship, budgeting, accounting and restaurant graphics.

Mitsakos said the students would also be encouraged to seek parttime work in the field, and that they would seek out food establishments in the community interested in a cooperative work arrangement.

The food management teacher would be federally-funded, and state funds would be forthcoming for the program advisor.

League Begins Fund Drive

The Andover League of Women Voters will begin its annual finance drive on Monday, Oct. 22. During that week league members will be contacting private citizens and local businesses to seek financial support for its programs and activities. This is the only fund raising activity of the league, which is entirely dependent on its own membership and members of the local community for financial contributions.

Although the league never endorses a candidate for office or a political party, through sponsoring candidates' nights before national, state and local elections, much information about elective officers, candidates and questions on the ballot are brought to the public.

Last fall the Andover League joined five other local leagues in sponsoring a Greater Lowell-Lawrence Area Candidates' Night. Gubernatorial hopefuls, U.S. Senate contenders, and State Congressional candidates.

Last Spring, besides the usual Town Meeting Warrant Units, an unusual Mock Town Meeting was held. The purpose of that meeting was to give the School Building Committee an opportunity to practice their presentation on the School Advisory questions due to appear on the upcoming Town Warrant. Attention focused on the need for and location of a new junior high school.

Also last Spring, the Andover League had guests speak on the subject of installation and safe use of wood burning stoves. Coming up on Oct. 30, the Financing State Government Committee has invited Representative Gerald M. Cohen to discuss possible legislation related to Property Tax. These are but a few of the activities fostered by tax deductible contributions to the League.

Paper Processing Explained

By Virginia Cole
Andover Recycling Comm.

Thought perhaps you'd be interested in what happens to all this paper we've been saving. Mr. Paul, of Essex Waste Paper in Lawrence has been faithfully buying Andover's paper since the days when a group of students manned a truck at the old dump. Mr. Paul tells me he sells to board mills and they make chip board for the packaging industry. It took a few more questions for me to find out what that meant. It means all those boxes on super-market shelves; cereals, cake mixes, soap powders, matches, kleenex boxes, as well as boxes in shoe stores, dress shops and drug stores. And when we have too much, the United States exports this material — fiber, he calls it. The United States generates more fiber than any other part of the world. When the U. S. market is really down — like a recession when no one is buying and therefore no retail boxes needed, the U.S. sells old newspapers to Korea where they de-ink them and process them into newspaper again.

Some of you may have seen the 'Gray Is Beautiful' campaign. This originated with the American Paper Institute in New York and is a plea to consumers to demand recycled goods. They say it is not enough to just save your paper, you must help make a demand for it by asking for packaging that uses it.

How to tell?

Look inside the box, and if it is gray, it is recycled goods.

You've got to spend more time in stores, testing cans with your magnet and looking inside boxes. Urge your family and friends to do the same. Talk to store managers so they, too, understand about recycling and how to find recycled products. Get private industry going. Create a demand.

The latest news from the marketplace is that paper is now $15 per ton!

Andover — Lawrence — Chelmsford

Next Sunday, The Globe brings you your own Kennedy library.

On Sunday, October 21, The Globe will include a colorful 48-page magazine, "JFK. The Man, The President," published in conjunction with the dedication of the John F. Kennedy Library in Boston. It follows Kennedy from his childhood and student days to his war adventures in the Pacific - from his start in Massachusetts politics through his rapid rise to the White House.

You'll see JFK through the eyes of his family, his teachers, his colleagues, his political allies and foes. Each section is fully illustrated with photos - some famous, some never before published.

It's a fascinating account of a remarkable life - the side we all remember, and the side we rarely saw.

It's a part of yesterday worth studying. And sharing. And saving.

The Public Forum

Appreciative!

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

The Andovers Artists Guild, Inc. and the Department of Community Services provide our culture-conscious community with the very fine, well-attended, outdoor Andover Art in Park each year. Art in the Park is one of many projects and events the Andovers Artists Guild holds to raise funds to help support its scholarship program. The businesses whose names follow should receive the community's warmest thanks for helping to make more scholarship money available to Andover and North Andover students by donating the increased numbers of awards which attracted the fine, talented artists present this year. The Andover Center Merchants organization annually supports Art Festival Week, and donates $150 and an engraved Paul Revere Bowl to the Best in Show winner. Gray Goose Art, Andover, owned by AAG member Gus Miller was the first business to help us toward our goal of increasing the number of awards given by donating a $50 first prize gift certificate. Other businesses who kindly helped with $50 gift certificates were: Andover Gallery of Fine Art, Andover; The Artist Shoppe & Gallerie, Inc., Reading; ASF Sales, Toledo, Ohio, Maxwell's Restaurant, Lawrence. Donors of $30 gift certificates were: Andover Inn Restaurant, Andover; Picture Yourself Framing, Chelmsford. Lee Dodd Realty, Andover, donated a $25 gift certificate; and Gorham Hardware, North Andover donated $18 worth of art supplies. Donors of other items and certificates which were combined to make second, third and honorable mention awards were: Winsor Newton, Secaucus, N.J., donating $60 worth of art supplies; Russell Harrington Cutlery, Inc., Southbridge; North Andover Gallery of Art, North Andover; The Artist Shoppe & Gallerie, Inc., Reading; Andover Jade Restaurant, Andover; Mid City Supply, Inc., Lawrence; Hobbytown of Methuen.

In addition we would like to thank Robert Hatton and family who donated the Dorothy Sanborn painting for a raffle to benefit the Ruth Hatton Memorial Scholarship Fund. Our thanks also goes to The Andover Townsman which helped make Art in the Park so successful with its truly excellent coverage of our event.

Strictly Business

ment Commission, addresses the group. Spiegel advised the merchants and chamber members that new industry welcomes the opportunity to do business locally and that merchants should make themselves known, along with the services they offer. He also suggested that businessmen get involved in community activities and Central Business District improvements, even if their positions on issues are not the most popular. "Getting involved can be fun, and at least your message is heard," Spiegel said.

Benefit Concert At Organ Hall

The Methuen Memorial Music Hall's third Friday evening program of the Fall Variety Series on Oct. 19 presents Kenneth Wilson, organist, in concert at 8:30 p.m.

The proceeds of this concert will be added to a fund established to award scholarships to area graduating high school seniors who plan to major in music at College. Six such scholarships have been awarded since 1974 by the Youth Committee of the Music Hall Board of Trustees. The anticipated financial addition to the fund principal, resulting in greater interest earnings, will allow the award of scholarships of higher dollar value or multiple scholarships.

The program includes: Fanfare and Grand March (from film music: El Cid) — Miklos Rozsa; Saraband — The First Day of Spring — China Doll — Leroy

Anderson; Scheherazade, Op. 35 (a Paraphrase) — Nikolai Rimsky-Korsakov; Romance — Star-Light Night — Claude Debussy; Songs of Sunny Italy — arranged by Kenneth Wilson; Allegro Maestoso — Bourree — Where'er You Walk — George Frederick Handel; Waltzes — Johann Strauss; Kismet Medley — Robert Wright, George Forrest; Encores of John McCormack (Smilin' Through — Arthur Penn; Macuschla-Dermot MacMurrough; I Hear You Calling Me — Charles Marshall; The Kerry Dance — James Molloy); Star Wars (an Improvisation — John Williams).

Kenneth Wilson is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, where he studied in organ, studying with Homer C. Humphrey. He furthered his study in Paris with the late Joseph Bonnet, former organist of St. Eustache.

In 1946, 82.3 percent of all births in the U.S. took place in hospitals under a physician's care. Today, the figure is 99 percent.

Organ Recital At Academy

On Friday, Oct. 19, at 8 p.m., in the Kemper Chapel, the Music Department of Phillips Academy will present a solo organ recital by Wijnand Van de Pol. Mr. Van de Pol will be performing on the academy's new nine-stop organ, recently built by the Andover Organ Company. This concert was originally scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 17.

Van de Pol, a native of Alkmaar, Netherlands, has been in Italy since 1957, where he graduated from the Rome Conservatory of Musica St. Cecilia in 1962. During and since that time, he has studied both privately and in master classes with Fernando Germani, Helmuth Rilling, Alan Curtis, and Luigi F. Tagliavini.

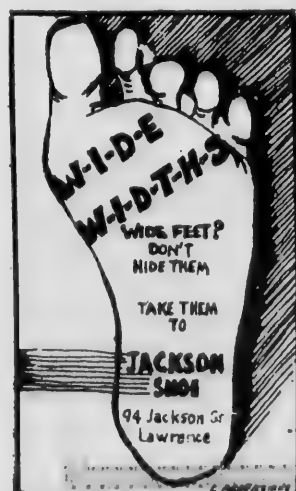

In Rome he has been organist of All Saints Anglican Church since 1960, Organist of the Roman Musical Association since 1968, and conductor of the FAO Philharmonic Choir. Since 1974, Mr. Van de Pol has been on the faculty at the Conservatory G.B. Martini in Bologna.

For this concert, Van de Pol will perform works by Frescobaldi, Sweelinck, Pasquini, Scarlatti, Albinoni and Bach.

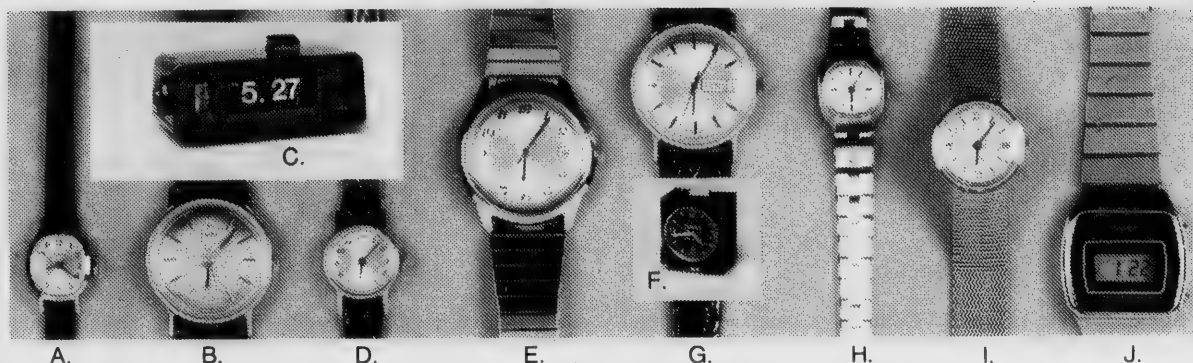

Admission is free and the public is invited to attend.

AFS Reception

A reception for foreign students currently living in Andover and North Andover and attending Andover High School, North Andover High School, Brooks School and Phillips Academy will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 23 at 7:30 p.m. at Memorial Hall Library, Andover.

The annual event, sponsored by the American Field Service and Memorial Hall Library, commemorates the founding on Oct. 24, 1945 of the United Nations organization and its purpose — "to develop friendly relations among nations." Accordingly, Professor Curtis H. Martin, chairman of the Department of Political Science at Merrimack College and an authority on international relations and the U.N. organization, will be the featured speaker.

Of particular interest will be short presentations by this year's AFS students: Ingvald Anderson of Norway, Khoo Pho Lin of Malaysia and Roland Matthes of Belgium. Roger Wiehe, President of the Andover chapter of AFS will serve as host assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Samuel, Presidents of the North Andover chapter.

An informal social hour, with refreshments served by the student chapter of AFS under the chairmanship of Katie Gannon, will conclude the program and provide the opportunity for townspeople to meet and welcome the many students from foreign lands studying in our area.

Merrimack Professor To Speak At Library

Curtis H. Martin, Chairman of the Department of Political Science at Merrimack College, will be the featured speaker at the Foreign Student's Reception on Tuesday, Oct. 23 at 7:30 p.m. at Memorial Hall Library. Professor Martin has been a member of the faculty at Regis College as well as a Consultant for the National Bureau of Economic Research, Cambridge. An expert in the field of international politics and U.S. foreign policy, he is a graduate of Harvard with a Phd from the Fletcher School of Law & Diplomacy at Tufts University.

The Foreign Students Reception is an annual event sponsored by Memorial Hall Library and the American Field Service to provide an opportunity for townspeople to meet and welcome the many students from foreign lands studying in our area. The public is invited.

Charlie Chaplin Series Continues

"The Gold Rush" and "Pay Day" will be shown Friday evening, Oct. 19 at Memorial Hall Library in the continuing Charlie Chaplin Series. "The Gold Rush," a masterly combination of pathos, humor and tragedy, is perhaps Chaplin's greatest film. The story revolves around an amateur prospector and his attempts to discover gold in Alaska around the turn of the century. "Pay Day" depicts Charlie as a construction worker. His comic efforts to protect his pay from his domineering wife provide a refreshing and hilarious treatment of commonplace events. The film program begins promptly at 7:30 p.m. and is open to the public without charge.

The Gay Divorcee A Sunday Special

Due to unexpected circumstances forcing a change in the film schedule, "The Gay Divorcee" will be shown on Sunday, Oct. 21 at 2:30 p.m. at Memorial Hall Library. Cole Porter's music is featured in this 1934 romantic, musical comedy which established Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers as top box office attractions. Open to the public without charge.

Under The Garden — Great Books Discussion

The Great Books Discussion Group will meet on Tuesday, Oct. 23 at 7:30 p.m. in the Print Room of Memorial Hall Library. Graham Greene's "Under the Garden" will be the subject for discussion. The Group meets regularly on the second and fourth Tuesdays of the month and anyone interested in reading and discussing some of the great works of literature is always welcome.

The Best Doctors In The U. S.

A guide book to the finest specialists, hospitals and health centers in the U.S. and Canada has been added to the reference collection at Memorial Hall Library. Designed to put vital medical information into the hands of the patient, the book will help you make sounder medical decisions for yourself and family. "The Best Doctors in the U.S." describes what doctors themselves regard as the most important qualifications and offers specific names and addresses in each medical specialty field. The information was complied by John Pekkanen, former newspaper reporter and presently an independent writer specializing in the medical profession.

Children's Room News By Bridget Bennett

Films-on-Fridays this week will feature several favorite animated children's stories, "Madeline's Rescue," "The Three Little Pigs" and "Five Chinese Brothers." Two showings will be given, at 10:30 a.m. and also 2 p.m. All pre-schoolers accompanied by an adult will be welcome.

The Children's Room is still taking registrations for our new reading club for fourth, fifth and sixth graders. Called "The Borrowers," this group will be meeting every Thursday afternoon at 3:30 p.m. in the Children's Room for 45 minutes on book-related activities. Club members will have a chance to read and review new titles, discuss their favorite authors or share ideas and opinions about books and movies. Each week, we will have something special planned for "The Borrowers." Please call us at 475-6960 if you are interested in joining or if you know a child who would enjoy participating in the club's activities.

Don't forget, Pajama Party, our evening story hour for pre-schoolers continues to meet each Thursday at 7 p.m. Designed for children 3½ to 5 years of age, each week at this time we present approximately 45 minutes of bed-time stories, songs and fingerplays.

East Jr. High Happenings

And Moira Recesso

East is very proud of their athletic teams this season. The Field Hockey team has been victorious in their past two games. The team defeated West 3-0 with Jana Caldwell scoring two of the goals and the third being knocked in by West. In the win against Billerica, Barbara Cullinan scored the only goal.

Continuing their winning streak the boys on East's soccer team beat Medford Freshmen 6-1. Last Monday against Billerica Zack Appar scored two goals and Jim Denoncourt scored one. The final score: East 3, Billerica 1.

The Freshmen football team won its second game of the year Friday beating Austin Prep 21-8. Mike Lucey scored two touchdowns and Joe Keefe scored one. J.J. Downey tackled the punter for a safety.

The team will play Chelmsford at home tomorrow.

East's eighth grade football team beat Kane Junior High with a score of 22-0. Ralph Dellato and Scott Stammers turned in outstanding performances for East.

This year's yearbook staff is already hard at work. Elections of officers were held. Moira Recesso was elected editor and Cathie Batson, assistant editor. Miss Judy Rickley is the advisor involved in the yearbook.

Rehearsals for the school play, "You're A Good Man Charlie Brown," are underway. Members of the cast in lead roles include: Cathy Merrill, Mike Riendeau, Tim Trespas, A.J. Sullivan, Claire Hollenbeck, Hilary Feier, Julie Barbagallo and Jenny Lewis. The play is being directed by John Givens of the English Department.

WESTern Roundup

By Tricia Gannon

A very active year is in progress at West Junior High. The student council officers have been sworn into office and William Hart has addressed the entire student body about our school theme. The aim of last year's school theme, Excellence in Everything, Phase I, focused towards the development of academic skills. This year Phase II of Excellence in Everything broadens its scope to include social awareness. Students and teachers alike will be putting their efforts towards the attainment of these goals.

Lester Taylor is now organizing the Outing Club's canoe trip down the Ipswich River. Everyone in the club, as well as the faculty advisors who are going, are looking forward to this event.

On Friday, Oct. 5, the Freshman football team played Wilmington. After a tough game, we lost 14-6. On Friday, Oct. 19, the team will be playing Chelmsford.

The eighth and ninth grade boys Soccer Team played Methuen last Friday. We beat Methuen, 3-0. The girls Field Hockey team played Methuen on Monday and lost 2-0. On Friday, Oct. 19, they will play another game.

The newspaper staff is passing in all news articles in order to get ready for the first edition of this year's 'West Side Story.' This will be published before Thanksgiving break.

On Oct. 26 there will be a Halloween party for the 7th grade.

Postponed

The North Andover Grange Fall Arts and Crafts Fair, scheduled for this Saturday, has been postponed until Saturday, Nov. 24.

Open House Tonight At West Jr. High

Following the presentation in the auditorium, all parents will report to the appropriate homeroom to pick up a class schedule.

The program will allow parents to follow his child's schedule of a "typical school day" and learn of the goals of each subject area.

Refreshments will then be served in the cafeteria where parents and teachers will meet informally.

A.H.S. Notebook

By Renee Pruneau

The first issue of the 1979-1980 Andover High Newspaper was on sale this week. This year's newspaper is entirely different from past publications. The staff has decided to work on an entirely new approach. It's laid out similar to a magazine. There are many photographs, taken and developed by the students; pictures, cartoons and drawings, also done by illustrious staff, and articles ranging from serious to frivolous.

The newspaper is geared more to the school than in past years. Even the new title, 'The Warrior' shows this. The paper is concerned with issues facing the school and its students; for instance, the possibility of the smoking area being taken away and upcoming S.A.T. deadlines. Then there is the more frivolous side; what concerts are coming up this coming month; where to eat in town (McDonald's was picked as the favorite spot), and student spotlights on our A.F.S. students and the A.B.C. Program. Of course, there's the ever popular sports teams, all of which have received some coverage.

There are plans for larger and better papers as the year goes on. The next paper will be a feature on this week's Homecoming Activities. The December issue of 'The Warrior' will be a Holiday issue, complete with color photographs a review of the 70's and a prediction for the 80's.

'Slave Days' To Benefit Trip

If you should need your lawn raked, windows washed, cellar cleaned, wall paper removed, or other household chores done, the Andover High School Choral students are ready and willing to help you out.

"Slave Days" are a means for the choral students to raise funds to help them with their expenses for their annual spring trip which this year will take them to the 6 Flags Music Festival in Atlanta, Ga.

Anyone in the community is encouraged to contact the Fine Arts Department at the Andover High School to arrange for a student or several students to help them with any chores they may have at a nominal fee. "Slave Days" will continue into the winter and early spring months.

Mime Magic Set For West Jr. High

On Tuesday, Oct. 23, David Zucker will give a pantomime presentation at 12:30 p.m. at the West Jr. High Auditorium. Parents of students who attend this presentation are invited to attend also.

David Zucker's "Mime Magic" makes use of the art of mime to break down the wall between audience and performer, and between people. David makes use of what he finds around him in the spaces in which he performs; from modern sculpture at a gallery, kettle drums in an auditorium, ropes in a gym, monkey bars in playgrounds, to pigeons at the Faneuil Hall Market Place.

'Mime Magic' has been known to effectively pierce the thickest grown-up shell in the group and reawaken in children of all ages, the joy of pretending and the value in making a fool of yourself.

David Zucker's 'Mime Magic' is sponsored by Liggett Rexall Drugs, in Andover.

In Concert

Berklee College of Music faculty member Bill Scism, a resident of 11 Longwood Drive, Andover, will be a featured trumpeter, when Mike Scott leads his dynamic ten-piece ensemble in a special concert of Big Band and mainstream jazz, Oct. 25 at 8:15 in the elite Berklee Performance Center.

The multi-talented group, consisting mostly of Berklee faculty members, will perform original and intriguing music that features the dynamic compositions of Scott and other band members.

Dedication Concert For 1845 Organ

Donald Ensmenger

Magician Returns to Andover

Donald Ensmenger, known to hundreds of youngsters in the Andover area as "Mr. E," will return to Andover for a series of magic shows at the Andover Bible Chapel, 266 Lowell St., Oct. 22 through Oct. 26. Ensmenger lives in Buffalo, N.Y., and has traveled extensively throughout the eastern United States and Canada presenting Bible truths through the medium of magic. Many Andover youngsters will remember his performances at the spring Andover Days Sidewalk Bazaar.

Ensmenger is a member of the world's largest magic organization, the International Brotherhood of Magicians, and an area representative for the Fellowship of Christian Magicians. His magic presentations have delighted Andover audiences several times in the past and his current series is open to all area residents. The shows begin each evening at 6:45 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Dick Truax of Andover, local representative for the series says, "We are pleased to be able to bring Don to Andover again. His magic has been fascinating and his presentations instructive each time he has come. Our Sunday School pupils are really excited about his shows."

Admission to the presentations is free and all members of the family are welcome. Further information can be obtained by calling the Andover Bible Chapel story line.

On Sunday, Oct. 21 at 7 p.m. the congregation at Faith Lutheran Church, Andover will hold the dedication concert for their "new" organ, an historic Pilcher organ built in New York City in 1845.

Richard Stultz, organist and choir-master of Old North Church, Marblehead, will be the guest soloist.

Research on this organ by the Organ Historical Society of Wilmington, Ohio has ascertained that it is the earliest extant organ known to have been built by Henry Pilcher, the English-born founder of a well-known organ manufactory of Louisville, Kentucky. In all, Pilcher and his sons built over 300 organs throughout the country. The Faith Lutheran Church Pilcher is a one manual organ with tracker (mechanical) action. It was purchased from Father John Crum, as Episcopal priest of Cobleskill, New York who had lovingly restored it and who did the installation with held from several church members. This organ is notable for its purity of tone and provides a major link between the English and American traditions of organ building.

The Recital Program includes Suite for Organ by Boyce; Three Early Dances edited by Heartz; Magnificat by Dandrieu; The Trophy by Couperin; Prelude and Fugue in B Minor and Fugue in G Major, "The Jig," by Bach. Miss Rideout will play Mozart's Concerto for Clarinet.

Richard Stultz is currently organist-choirmaster at Old North Church, Marblehead, and director of quality control at Barrier Coatings in Lawrence. He received bachelor's degrees from Tufts University in both music and chemical engineering, and a Master of Sacred Music degree from Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas. His teachers include Laurence Buell, Jack Fisher, John Skelton, Dr. Robert Anderson, and Yuko Hayashi. Mr. Stultz has played recitals in the Boston area, Dallas, Nashua, N.H., and at the Methuen Memorial Music Hall.

Katherine Rideout is a senior at Marblehead High School, and a student of Dr. Attilio Pato of Boston Conservatory. She has played for 10 of her 16 years, and has played with the Northeast Massachusetts Senior and Junior High District Bands. Last summer she was chosen to be a member of America's Youth in Concert, which takes outstanding high school musicians from every state on a concert tour of seven European cities.

The concert is open to the public and refreshments will be served at the conclusion. Faith Lutheran Church is at 360 South Main St., Andover.

Msgr. Collins To Discuss Catechetics

Msgr. Russell J. Collins will be the speaker at St. Augustine's School hall on Wednesday, Oct. 24 at 7:30 p.m. and will discuss the future of Catechetics in the United States.

Msgr. Collins is the author of the recently published "National Catechetical Directory."

Msgr. Collins, a well-known educator with Licentiate in Sacred Theology as well as a Ph.D., is the pastor of St. Athanasius parish, Reading. All religious education teachers, as well as anyone interested in the shape of Catechetics in this country, is invited to attend.

Bea Roegge

Christian Science Lecture

A central point in the Christian Science lecture Mrs. Bea Roegge will deliver here on Oct. 23 is this: "The discovery of the allness of God, good, heals both sin and disease."

"What we accept as man — as true about man — logically has to agree with what we know about God, man's Creator," Mrs. Roegge points out.

At several points in a lecture entitled "In God's Sight, What Are We?" the lecturer describes severe crises which were eased and then healed through spiritual awakening and regeneration.

She asks, in fact: "Would it be too much to say that back of all strong moral stands, back of all regenerative experiences, there is — maybe even unrecognized — an ideal of perfection? Some awareness that man is much more and much better than the human scene indicates? A glimpse perhaps, of the majesty and beauty and goodness of God's man?"

Mrs. Roegge makes clear the deeply Christian precepts which undergird the practice of Christian Science. "Christ Jesus," she emphasizes, "forgave the sins and stated 'that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins.' He also healed all effects which come from believing there is a presence or power apart from God."

The lecture begins at 8 p.m. in The Christian Science Church, 278 North Main St., Andover. First Church of Christ, Scientist, Andover, is sponsoring the lecture and Kenneth Wilson of Andover, a member of the church will introduce Mrs. Roegge. The lecture is open to the public free of charge.

Ballardvale Youth Plan Activities

On Sunday, Oct. 21, the Senior High youth from the Ballard Vale United Church will meet at 1:30 p.m. to travel to Boston. They will visit the Christian Science Building, the new Boston Public Library, the Copley Square — Newbury Street area and Boston Garden. They will have dinner at the "Salad Days" restaurant on Charles Street.

On Sunday, Oct. 28, the Junior and Senior youth groups will join a Central District Youth event at the Rolling Ridge conference Center in North Andover from 2 to 8 p.m. The youth will rake the lawn, carry in wood, put away the picnic tables, and do other chores in preparation for winter. They will have supper together and then have a benefit dance for UNICEF. They are asked to bring a rake, plastic bags, a sack supper and $1 for UNICEF. All youth are welcome to attend.

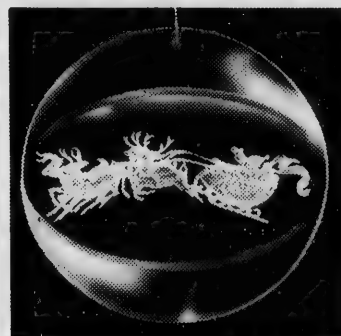

The regular meetings of the Ballardvale group are on each Sunday with Junior High meeting from 5 to 6 p.m. and Senior High from 6:30 to 8 p.m.

All youth ages 8 to 15 from the Ballardvale church are urged to turn in their Church League Basketball registrations as soon as possible.

Noted Wood Carver To Speak At Academy

Fritz Eichenberg

Master wood carver Fritz Eichenberg, who gained his fame as illustrator of the works of Dostoevsky and other literary classics, will speak on "The Artist as Endangered Species" Friday, Nov. 2 at Phillips Academy. The public is invited to hear this distinguished artist, who will illustrate with slides of his wood engravings, in Kemper Auditorium, across from the Andover Inn, at 6:45 p.m.

Eichenberg, whose prints now are in the Metropolitan Museum, the Library of Congress, the art collection of the Vatican, the University of Jerusalem and the Hermitage in Leningrad, will explain the artistic process of wood engraving that has absorbed his talents for over fifty years. He will be introduced by Alexander Theroux, English teacher and writer-in-residence at Phillips, who wrote the introduction to Eichenberg's anthology, "The Wood and the Graver," published in 1977. In the last five years, Eichenberg has been named one of the "Outstanding Educators of America," has had a number of honorary degrees, and was chosen by the Smithsonian for its traveling exhibition of American prints during the 1976 Bicentennial.

Born in Cologne, he became an artist/cartoonist/reporter in Berlin, but left for America in protest against Hitler's rise to power. His first important commissions in this country were for the Limited Editions Club, illustrating such works as 'Uncle Remus,' 'Jane Eyre,' 'Wuthering Heights,' the 'Tales of Edgar Allen Poe,' and Dostoevsky's 'Fathers and Sons,' as well as the works of Pushkin, Tolstoy and Wilkie Collins. In 1947 he began teaching at the Pratt Institute in New York became chairman of its art department in 1956, and founded 'Artist's Proof,' a publication devoted to contemporary printmaking. Theroux notes that his wood engravings for the Old Testament and Dostoevsky particularly bear testimony to mankind's agony and continuing need for justice and spirituality.

Winiker Orchestra In Benefit

Jazz buffs can look forward to a major concert at the University of Lowell on Sunday, Nov. 4 at 7:30 p.m. when the Ed, Bill and Bo Winiker Swing Orchestra will present a history of jazz that begins with classic Dixieland and concludes with contemporary compositions by Mike Finegold.

Narrating the program will be Bill Winiker, the orchestra's drummer and a noted authority on jazz styles and history. His brother Bo, on the trumpet, has featured with Stan Kenton Orchestra and the Grammy Award-winning New England Conservatory Ragtime Ensemble. Ed Winiker, a Boston band leader for twenty years and a major force in the swing revival here, has played piano with Charlie Barnet.

Tenor sax, clarinet and flute will be in the hands of Mike Finegold. Professor of music at Northern Essex Community College, he performs with theater and dance orchestras in and around Boston as well as with jazz groups, including his own New England Chamber Jazz Ensemble. He appears regularly with the Winikers at the Last Hurrah in Boston's Parker house.

Playing bass will be Bruce Gert, and Dick Johnson is expected to drop in from Herb Pomeroy's band to perform on the alto sax and clarinet.

Sponsored by Temple Emanuel of Merrimack Valley, Lowell, to benefit its organ fund, the concert will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the university's Cummock Hall. The box office will open at 7 p.m. For advance tickets send a check made payable to Temple Emanuel and a stamped return envelope to Arlene Vogel, 12 Cameron Road, Andover 01810, or Elaine Katz, 68 Phillips St., Andover, 01810.

Co-Ordinator

Republican Town Committee Chairman, Harry Axelrod of 27 Alden Road, Andover will serve as town coordinator for the "Tax Ax" petition signature drive which would place House Republican Floor Leader William G. Robinson's (R-Melrose) income tax cut plan on the 1980 ballot. He will coordinate the municipality of Andover.

On Aug. 1, 1979, Rep. Robinson filed the initiative petition for the income tax cut plan in the state Attorney General's office. By Dec. 5, 1979, Robinson will need to gather 62,000 registered voters' signatures to introduce the petition in the House of Representatives for the 1980 legislative session. If the legislature fails to pass the proposal, Robinson, with the help of House Republican members and community volunteers interested in seeing an income tax cut on the 1980 ballot as a binding question, will have to gather additional signatures to insure that the income tax cut proposal is placed on the 1980 ballot.

LGH Aid Group Seeks Members

The Lawrence General Hospital Aid Association is looking for 276 new members. There are currently 524 members.

The Aid Association is holding its Annual Membership Day at the Andover Country Club on Wednesday, Oct. 24 at 12:30 p.m. Dessert, coffee and tea will be served.

Membership Day is open to the public. It will give all who attend the opportunity to learn about Aid Association activities, meet current members, learn about current developments at the hospital.

In addition, the program will feature two distinguished speakers who will deal with an interesting subject: "Growing Old, and How to Handle It." The speakers are Dr. Nina E. Scarito, well-known local Obstetrician and Gynecologist, and Brian Langdon, Director of Family Service Association of Greater Lawrence. They will provide insights to help understand the effects of aging in a youth-oriented society.

Persons wishing to become a part of the Aid Association through membership will be able to sign-up at the Membership Day at a table hosted by program chairperson, Mrs. Thomas Lamson.

Membership dues are integral to the support of the hospital. For instance, do you know that in the fall of 1978 the LGH Aid Association completed its $100,000 pledge to the Webster Department of Emergency Services currently under construction? Do you know that in the spring of 1979, the Aid Association donated $40,000, $10,000 for the decorating and furnishing of the Russell Lobby, $25,000 toward an operating room image intensifier, $1,800 for patient educational TV tapes, and $3,200 for renovations of the Surgical Day Care Department?

Do you know that 800 Greater Lawrence citizens have been trained in heartsaver procedures by our Community Health Education Committee since its inception in 1977, and that 1,574 people have seen our choke film? Do you know that 150 Senior Volunteers and 50 Junior Volunteers contributed 23,000 hours over the last year? Do you know that 322 3 to 5-year-olds visited LGH under the direction of the Aid Association Nursery School Tours? That 110 expectant mothers were given an introduction to the Hospital through Aid Association-sponsored maternity coffees? Each spring the Aid Association holds a Health Careers day for area high school students interested in health careers.

John F. Bronk

Veteran Trainer At Academy Dies

Services will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. in Phillips Academy's Cochran Chapel for John Frank Bronk, 62, trainer and physical therapist at the academy since 1944, who died suddenly at his home at 31 Holt Road Andover, Sunday.

Over his 35 years on the Andover campus he won the respect and affection of thousands of students as a trainer and counselor who treated their physical problems with skillful hands and professional wisdom, and their other problems with understanding, compassion and humor.

He was born in Medford Feb. 3, 1917, and grew up in Reading. He attended Reading schools, where he excelled in sports. While still in high school he played for a professional football team, the Pierre Marquettes. He studied bone and muscle formation and athletic training at the Nylin School and apprenticed at Harvard University under Dr. Augustus Thorndike and Jack Fadden. He was head trainer at Dartmouth for four years until he accepted the appointment at Phillips Academy in May, 1944.

He married Helen Rita Walsh in 1943.

In July, 1958, he became a house counselor and faculty member at Phillips, teaching physical education. In 1959 he received his license as a registered physical therapist. He also led workshops teaching advanced techniques in athletic training procedures to coaches and other trainers at Lowell State College. The Bronks have been longtime summer residents of Ipswich.

In January of 1978, one of his legs was amputated, but the following fall he resumed his work as athletic trainer of boys and girls.

In the new Andover Athletic Complex, whose renovations and new construction are nearly complete, a new trainer's and a coaches room, donated by alumni friends, was designated the John and Helen Bronk Training and Coaching Rooms over a year ago.

The memorial service Thursday at Cochran Chapel will be led by the Rev. A. Graham Baldwin, School Minister Emeritus, assisted by the Rev. J. Philip Zaeder, chairman of the Academy's chaplains, and students will participate.

Survivors, besides his wife, Helen, include his daughter, Mrs. Barbara Bronk Hiruo and two grandchildren, Jason and Sarah, his brother, Frank H. Bronk of Exeter, N.H., and his sister, Mrs. Mary Bronk Komak of Lynnfield.

Contributions may be made in his name to the Bicentennial Campaign Fund of Phillips Academy.

Joining Solid Waste Region Is Approved

After years of committee study on the matter, a recommendation to contract for trash removal along with other member towns of the North East Solid Waste Committee was readily passed by town meeting Monday, the first time the matter has been voted on by that body.

The recommendation of the Andover Solid Waste Study Committee was to enter into a 20-year contract with UOP, a private incineration and electricity generating facility to be built in North Andover.

The warrant article allowed for entering into a contract with the regional facility.

The cost to Andover residents for use of the facility could become as low as $5 per ton, once the facility has been established. Current costs are $10 per ton. (Costs mentioned do not include curbside pick-up, just the "tipping fee" or the amount it costs to dump the waste once collected.

Frederick Fitzgerald announced Finance Committee approval of the article, but added that he was concerned about some possible "nasty surprises" which might crop up in the future.

One of his concerns was over the length of the contract. He said that technology in the field of incinerating trash and using the heat to generate electricity was still developing. Better and cheaper methods might become available which Andover would not be able to take advantage of because of the long-term contract.

He added that the project might grow and become a "bureaucratic dragon" which could be difficult to deal with.

Fitzgerald also wondered about the penalties to the town if it failed to meet the conditions of the contract.

Despite these problems, and his skepticism about the dropping costs, Fitzgerald recommended passage of the measure, both as a FinCom member and as a private citizen.

He called the article "a positive step in solving a very nagging problem."

"It could be the most attractive of all options we have," Fitzgerald said.

Public Works Director Robert McQuade said UOP would need 900 tons per day to start up a facility which could handle up to 1500 tons per day. Currently, McQuade said, more than 700 tons per day have been committed by fewer than ten communities.

The cost to Andover for the use of UOP's proposed facility would drop depending on how much trash was available for incineration, and the prices the company got for the electricity it generated. Costs would be lowest when the facility was operating at maximum capacity.

Andover could not drop below a certain minimum amount of waste per day without penalty, Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark said. The contract being considered would allow a maximum drop of 5 percent over one year of the contract, with a maximum drop of 10 percent allowed over the life of the contract.

Andover's increase in tonnage per day could increase as much as 150 percent without penalty, and even more if UOP expands its facilities, Clark said.

Computer Progress In Line

Implementation of the data processing equipment to all phases of municipal operations is moving along satisfactorily, although a little slower than anticipated.

Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark informed selectmen this week that all of the payroll and word processing capabilities of the new computer put into service in January of this year, are up and working.

In his update report on the new machinery, development of software for water and sewer department accounting procedures is now underway and will probably take until mid-December to reach full capability.

Clark added that once the programs are developed for the utility billing and departmental accounting, the programs will assist the town in maintaining data to monitor the water and sewer departments and avoid the necessity of periodic studies by outside sources.

Such studies in the past have cost between $7,000-$10,000 and have been used in determining water and sewer rates, as well as service needs.

Also being worked on is the capability to develop a budget model for work in setting up the municipal budget for 1979-'80. Through use of the computer, it is hoped to achieve the capability of determining the accuracy of figures, along with the impact of ultimate budgetary decisions on the town's tax rate.

Five Firms
Bid On Revaluing

Five firms have submitted proposals to conduct the revaluation of properties in the town, as approved at the annual town meeting.

The proposals are now being studied by the assessors and Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark before issuing a contract to have the work initiated in conformance with orders issued by the courts that all towns and cities in the Commonwealth comply with the law which dictates property to be assessed at 100 per cent fair market value.

Town meeting appropriated $200,000 for the work.

Clark said this week that experience and quality of the firm will be considered in

School Project Targeted For April

The Spring town meeting remains the target date for presentation of the school building project to the townspeople.

Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark informed selectmen this week that the voters would be given either a bond issue to consider or advisory questions with regard to the project which has been under study since the 1978 annual town meeting.

Clark explained that the frustrations of the project are based on the fact that the building committee must now consider planning for 700 less pupils than when the project was originally presented to the 1978 town meeting.

What this means, the manager pointed out, is that the town is now planning for one less school than originally thought necessary, thus resulting in the saving of millions of dollars in construction costs as well as operating and maintenance costs.

Clark said that it is premature to release or discuss enrollment figures on which the construction project will be based, since they are still being examined.

He added that since the scope of the project will be several million dollars less, the town will have saved money in the long run, even considering that building costs have escalated due to the inflationary spiral.

The school building committee voted last week to reject the school committee school population projection of 5000 and to invite the school committee to meet with them tonight "for the purpose of determining or working out the differences in the school population figures and coming to a decision about them."

The building group also voted to change the design year of the school project to 1985, the year the student population decline will increase, according to both the Dr. Joseph Baglio and the Merrimack Valley Planning Commission projections. Baglio and the MVPC agree about when the decrease will accelerate, but not about how severe it will be.

New population figures presented to the committee by Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark helped influence the decision to reject the school committee figure of 5000 and to ask for a joint meeting.

Clark presented results of a census taken yearly by the town clerk which showed that while 1186 births were recorded in Andover between 1974 and 1978, there

Timetable
Established

By Christmas the school building committee will have all the information it needs to make a recommendation on the direction the school building project should take, according to a timetable presented to them last Thursday.

Perly F. Gilbert Associates, architects for the project, wrote the schedule which lists the planning steps for the project, who is responsible for carrying them out, and when they will be completed.

All parties listed in the schedule have accepted their responsibilities and their deadlines, according to School Building Committee Chairman Kenneth Gropper.

If all goes according to the schedule, the planning process should be ready for implementation as of Dec. 20, 1979. Then, "after a full disclosure of all relevant information," the school building committee will be able to make "A determination of the course of action to be taken," in conjunction with the school committee, the architects and town officials.

A summary of existing student enrollment information and the adoption of a student enrollment projection was scheduled for last Tuesday. Then the school committee adopted the figure 5000, which was rejected Thursday by the building committee pending further discussion at tonight's joint school committee/building committee meeting.

A statement of school department educational philosophy and its relation to subjects taught and teaching practices was scheduled for completion yesterday.

An eight-part survey of existing school buildings is scheduled for completion Nov. 1.

Once the information gathering stage is completed, the architects will consider how to fit the school buildings to the four grade divisions being considered by the building committee: 4-4-4, 5-3-4, 6-2-4 and 6-3-3.

By Nov. 30 these alternatives, including the impact each would have on the school buildings, would be ready, according to the schedule.

Construction costs for those grade distributions deemed "viable" would be estimated by Dec. 15, according to the architect's timetable. Also ready by that date would be schematic drawings of alterations or new construction, and the budgetary impacts the different schemes would have.

That would leave the building committee with the final stage listed on the itinerary: "report implementation."

The intent of the schedule is to have a recommendation on the school building project ready for spring town meeting, with bonding and construction to begin as soon as possible thereafter, according to Gropper, "if the cricks don't rise and the houses don't float."

were only 827 zero-to-four year olds living here as of Jan. 1, 1979. The difference between the figures is 359.

"The question is," said Clark, "What happened to the 359?"

Some school building committee members suggested that perhaps they moved away — out-migration. But school department figures indicate that there was in-migration at least during part of that period.

Other members suggested the difference might have been caused by residents not responding to the town clerk's annual census.

This new problem, along with the old ones concerning the differences between the preparation of the MVPC report and the Baglio report, were scheduled as part of tonight's discussion.

Architect Herb Glassman told the committee last Thursday that population projections had to be in a certain range of accuracy in order for the building project to be properly designed.

Glassman said elementary figures should be within 200 of the actual enrollment, junior high figures within 100 and high school figures within 100. "You realize, every time I say 100, you're talking four rooms," Glassman said, using 25 as the capacity of a typical classroom.

School Committeeman Donald Robb suggested that planning begin for the secondary schools because "the kids are in the system now," and because both population projections agree on a fairly stable secondary enrollment.

He added that he thought it would be "foolish not to take the week to two weeks necessary to get the number we can all work on." This was in response to a motion by SBC member Virginia Cole to accept 4600 as the school population figure because it was a rough average of the Baglio and MVPC reports.

Committeeman William Munroe called the motion "as unbusinesslike as anything I've ever heard of." The motion was withdrawn when tonight's joint meeting was suggested.

Richard Gladstone of the MVPC is scheduled to attend tonight's meeting to explain his report. Baglio reportedly is unavailable for the meeting.

The meeting starts at 7:30 in the town hall conference room.

Who's At Fault For The Schools?

The season for taking a whack at the public schools at the administrative level is upon us again.

In Andover that generally happens with the falling of the leaves, the advent of spring or the descent of the first snow flake. But, actually, tossing a barb or two, or being critical of school buildings or programs, is not unusual to this town. Being the most expensive of municipal operations, one must assume that department to be fair game.

The latest salvo against the Andover schools has come in the form of criticism of the buildings and their maintenance, as indicated by Selectman Susan T. Poore.

The matter was under discussion a couple of weeks ago in budgetary considerations for the coming year. She suggested that the school maintenance be within town control, a matter not particularly new to municipal thinking.

Al Hart, school plant engineer, was retained by the school department through a series of events. At the time, there had been approval given by town meeting to create a position of plant engineer to look over and be responsible for all municipal buildings.

When selectmen and school officials got together to more or less decide on a job description, there was a determination made that the schools, indeed, were in dire need of attention, thus the hiring of a plant engineer was left to them in an effort to preserve the multi-million-dollar school plant.

Also, as part of that decision, there were problems resulting from failure to come to grips with how much time the engineer should spend between town and school problems, and who would supervise custodians, or order light bulbs.

Thus, the school committee was given carte blanche to obtain an engineer with particular attention to the bricks and mortar issues rather than the overseeing of custodial duties.

In our opinion, fairly well substantiated by those in a position to know, Al Hart has done a commendable job with the school plant, considering the tools provided.

Mrs. Poore's contention that the schools are in poor condition may well be justified, but not due to any lack of attention to problems on the part of the plant engineer.

While the town did acquire a professional to look after the plant, a general practice followed by school committees from time immemorial and supported by town meeting votes, is generally responsible for any decaying building conditions.

That practice is best known as budget cutting. Pretty generally, when school budgets are initially presented, cutting is anticipated. About the first item to be chopped is in the maintenance area. Painting of windows can be put off for another year, repair of some sections can be postponed, or why not wait to do some other project, is the general theme.

The result is a compounding of problems which then require major funding to correct, followed by a reluctance to expend huge sums to do the job properly.

In addition to this problem, it should also be pointed out that a major portion of the plant engineer's time since being hired, has probably been spent on correcting problems at the Bancroft School, with its many structural and roof problems.

We think that under the circumstances, Hart has done a good job in arresting the decline of school building conditions, through annual programs accomplished within the funds available.

There are, we understand, efforts to extend his services to other municipal buildings, as the position was originally intended. If this can be accomplished, the town would benefit.

But such effort can only occur through harmonious relationships between municipal bodies.

The school committee rightly resented inferences made by Mrs. Poore in her commentary before her colleagues. The two official bodies of the town — selectmen and school committee — have their own spheres of responsibility, which should command sufficient attention, without seeking other fields to conquer.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — October 1904

Hen thieves made a visit to Frye Village on Sunday night or early Monday morning and took a number of fowls from the coops of Joseph W. Poore and Joseph Phiff. The thieves were evidently frightened away, as the birds were found in a field near the houses next morning. They were headless and it is believed the thieves intended to pluck them before carrying them away. Mr. Poore places his loss at about 13, and Mr. Phiff at 20.

A man was found wandering aimlessly around the square on Wednesday morning by chief Frye and taken to the police station. The man claimed to have been drugged in a Lawrence saloon and was at a loss to know how he came to Andover. Chief Frye kept him within the confines of a cell during the remainder of the day.

Mrs. William H. Hardy from San Francisco, Calif., has been in town as a guest of her friend Mrs. James N. Smart, on the hill.

The board of health has received several complaints and has found it necessary to take some action in regard to the dump at Abbott Village and the one at the corner of School Street and Lupine Road. From now on, all residents who have anything to dispose of must take same to the public dump.

Dr. Alfred V. Kidder returned to Andover this week after a five day's flight over Central America with Col. Charles A. Lindbergh as he blazed a mail trail over Central America.

JACK ANDERSON WEEKLY SPECIAL

Carter Has Calm Exterior But He Is Biling Within

By JACK ANDERSON
WASHINGTON -- Back in 1924, a little-remembered Republican president ran and won on the slogan, "Keep Cool with Coolidge." Now more than a half-century later, a Democratic occupant of the White House is testing a similar rallying cry: "Keep Calm with Carter."

Jimmy Carter recently boasted of his ability to avoid panicking in a crisis. He then quickly wrote his potential presidential rival, Ted Kennedy, that any allusion to the senator's behavior at Chappaquiddick never entered his mind. But White House sources admit that the backhanded slap was intended to remind the voters of Kennedy's panicky actions on the night of the Chappaquiddick drowning tragedy 10 years ago.

Carter followed up his image-making ploy with a show of unflappability in dealing with the Soviet troops in Cuba, even though the issue was of his own administration's making.

Nonetheless, White House insiders know that while their boss may look cool on the outside, he is often boiling on the inside. They tell us that behind the smiling Carter facade, he's inwardly stewing over the political polls which show him almost a certain loser for a second term.

The two faces of Jimmy aren't new to his intimates. They know that personal setbacks have always gnawed at him mentally and psychologically. The Georgian is a compulsive achiever who anguishes over any failure to attain personal goals.

One instance came after his graduation from the U.S. Naval Academy. He gained the finals for selection as a Rhodes scholar but was rejected. Friends from that period recall that he was badly shaken and upset.

Even worse was the depression Carter experienced in 1966 when he lost his first race for the Georgia governorship. The president has acknowledged the defeat caused him to re-evaluate his life. Several associates remember that he was plunged into days of gloomy introspection. He pulled himself together and turned to religion only after a long talk with his evangelist-sister, Mrs. Ruth Carter Stapleton.

Carter is determined to defy the polls and seek reelection. Those who know him well predict he'll fight for every delegate vote to the Democratic convention and every ballot cast in next year's election if renominated.

Teddy's Response: Ted Kennedy is boiling, not at Carter's oblique Chappaquiddick comment, but at the economic figures his advisers are bringing him. The outlook for the economy is so dire that there's virtually no doubt in his camp that he'll challenge the president directly for the White House.

The latest report to the senator showed food prices skyrocketing at an annual rate of 21.6 percent at a time when the Carter administration is selling tons of wheat and corn to the Soviet Union. Consumers are paying the piper for finished goods at a rate that is rising at 16.8 percent.

Energy is costing 81.6 percent more annually. And it was the cost of heating oil that drew the most emphatic response from Kennedy. He pointed out that refiners are soaking the users unconscionably and their profit margin has zoomed up 231 percent since Carter took office in 1976.

People will freeze to death because of the exorbitant heating oil price squeeze this winter, Kennedy grimly told an aide.

His economists have also told him that half the current double-digit inflation rate can be attributed to lack of confidence at home and abroad in Carter's leadership. The high-interest-rate policy just imposed by the government is also expected to bring heavier unemployment throughout the nation and deepen the recession.

Every economic indicator brought to his attention makes it all but certain that Teddy will run.

Unreliable Information: There is evidence that President Carter's promise that there'll be sufficient heating oil this winter may be based on misleading information from his Energy Department. The president told his Cabinet recently "we will have the necessary fuel to see us through this winter. You need not doubt that any longer."

But some congressional experts are less optimistic. A confidential report prepared for Sen. Max Baucus, D-Mont., is dubious. There's no way of knowing whether there'll be enough heating oil this winter, the report warns.

The report contended the Energy Department failed to obtain the full data to forecast the supply-and-demand situation accurately. It stops short of predicting a shortage but points out that Carter is basing his rosy premise on unreliable information.

Watch on Waste: The federal government is at long last giving a hoot about whistleblowers. When the Civil Service Commission was reorganized early this year, a special counsel's office was established to protect employees who blow the whistle on waste and theft of the taxpayers' money. Until recently, the office was understaffed but beginning this month, funds were provided to hire 140 staff members and set up five new field offices.

* There's another show-and-tell horror story out of the General Services Administration which is the purchasing agent for federal departments and bureaus. Auditors checked into equipment and supplies bought and stored by the GSA. They found the agency had accepted a dump truck without inspecting it on delivery. Testing showed that when the dump section was raised, it slid off the truck onto the ground. Inspectors also found unused paint cans only partially full, torque wrenches that didn't torque and short-count boxes of plastic bags.

Footnote: Those who are aware of government extravagance should write to JACK ANDERSON'S WATCH ON WASTE, P.O. Box 2300, Washington, D.C. 20013.

HOW MUCH DOES FURNITURE COST?

One way to figure out how much various pieces of furniture really cost is to use the following formula:

Take the particular piece of furniture you're thinking about, then estimate how many years it will reasonably last and how many years you expect to use it — and divide the number of years into the price.

That will give you a cost-per-year — and the result will probably surprise you.

A piece of furniture that you may pay, say, $500 for, and expect to use for 15 years, thus has a cost-per-year of only about $33, and makes furniture one of the real bargains around today.

Our point in bringing this formula to you is to indicate an often overlooked point about furniture. Furniture is one of those things that lasts and gives you repeated value — yet while that is an advantage, it also makes it very important that you buy the right furniture in the first place.

We're here to give you selection and value, and help you buy furniture that you will be happy with for a long time, so stop in.

Learning The Game

There's more to football than just good blocking and accurate passing, the team members of the Andover Junior League Football squads are learning all about it. Skillful, Safe Driving Featured At Andy 500

Over 50 runs were taken down the "School Street Speedway" this past Saturday as the Department of Community Services held its fifth annual Andy 500 soap box derby.

This year's race again required racers to exhibit different phases of their driving ability. A slick road surface and a stiff fall breeze added to the difficulty of each participant's run down the track. As in last year's race, every car had to be guided around obstacles set up along the length of the speedway. The emphasis of the race was on speed, agility and especially safety. Cars not meeting braking and steering requirements were not allowed in the competition.

Special awards were given to individuals whose cars showed noteworthy design and/or imagination. For the third year in a row, Doug and Tracy Bailey took an award for having the safest vehicle. Lance Lee was also presented with a blue ribbon for having a wellbuilt and outstandingly safe car. The "most attractive" car award was shared this year by Tom and Chris Johnson who competed in twin cars that were identical except for their paint jobs and stickers.

Two cars that were ingeniously constructed with every day items found around the house (i.e. plastic garbage cans) but still enjoyed moderate success on the race track were those belonging to Kevin Walsh and Matt Corbett. These participants were given the "Andy 500 Bomb" award.

Finally, a special "Most unique" car award was given to Steven Mencis who ventured down the track in the smallest vehicle the Andy 500 has ever seen. sion III, Leigh French.

Once again, the department would like to thank the many fans, racers, and especially those individuals who volunteered their time and assisted in making this year's Andy 500 an enjoyable family event.

Winners in their respective classes were as follows:

First Place — Solo: Division I (Grades 1-2), Shane Demers; Division II (Grades 4-6), Francis Odum (30.7 fastest race time); Division III (Grades 6-9), Mark Keppler.

Squirt A Team Wilmington League

Andover 1, Billerica 8

Although beaten by a perennially powerful Billerica team, Andover played a solid game. Settling down after a shaky first period in which the opposition dominated and scored five evenly spaced goals, Andover played Billerica to a draw in the second period, with each team scoring one goal. The line of Kyle McCabe, Mark Neaves and Dana Forbes forechecked strongly and kept on heavy pressure, as did the line of Steve Donovan, Mike Nelligan and James O'Brien. Andover's goal was scored unassisted by Mark Berberian. He and linemates Dave Riddiford and Chris Sapuppo broke up a couple of Billerica attempts to get control of the puck, and then Mark pulled it off the stick of a defenseman near the corner of the net, and drove it in from a tough angle.

At the other end, defensemen, Matt Young, Bob Stoltz, Peter Trede and Matt Alden provided steady support for goalies Chris Hansberry and Jim Berberian.

In the final period Billerica regained their momentum and scoring power, despite continuing good play by Andover, and won the game.

The meeting will begin precisely at 7:30 p.m. If more information is needed contact Frank Monette.

Andover 2, Manchester 4

Andover's Squirt A's came back from the letdown of the last game to put out their best effort to date, against a strong Manchester team. With three offensive lines and both defense pairings skating well, Coach Ferrara's team played a poised and well coordinated game.

Manchester opened with a powerful offense, which Andover held off effectively and created some good offensive efforts of its own. Kyle McCabe continued to show his forechecking skill and broke up several Manchester rushes in both zones. Steve Donovan made some fine charges in the offensive zone and had a couple of hard shots, which were turned aside by Manchester's goalie. At mid-period Manchester took advantage of an Andover lapse and opened the scoring.

The second period saw more equal play between the two teams, with the goalie, Chris Hansberry, keeping Manchester out on some excellent saves early on. Manchester then got its second goal by. But Andover soon retaliated and tied things up with two quick goals. First Mike Nelligan pulled a puck loose near the net to set up a Steve Donovan shot that was deflected behind the net. Mike got the puck at the boards and gave it back to Steve out front, and in a lot of heavy action Matt Alden slipped in the goal. Assists to Donovan and Nelligan. About a minute later, Dana Forbes and Kyle McCabe broke up a clearing pass, and McCabe snapped in a good wrist shot from 15 feet out.

In the second and third Andover had some excellent power plays with Kyle McCabe, Dave Riddiford, Chris Sapuppo, Mark Berberian and Mark Neaves alternating at the forward lines, and Defenseman Matt Alden, Matt Young, Bob Stoltz and Peter Trede holding in Manchester's efforts to clear.

The third period saw sustained up and down action and fine scoring attempts by both teams. Manchester got the best of it with two goals despite Goalie Jim Berberian making two sensational saves, one early in the period and one almost at the buzzer.

Andover 1, Saugus 10

Following a fine team effort the day before, Andover had a letdown and was dominated by a well organized Saugus offense. The opposition kept up steady pressure and scored at even intervals through the first period.

As they have done several times before, Andover tightened up and played a stronger second period. Midway in the period, Dave Riddiford, Mark Berberian and Chris Sapuppo did some hard digging in the offensive corners and around the net, and Mark slid a loose puck under a sprawling goalie for Andover's goal.

For the rest of the game, Saugus held off any threats and took the win.

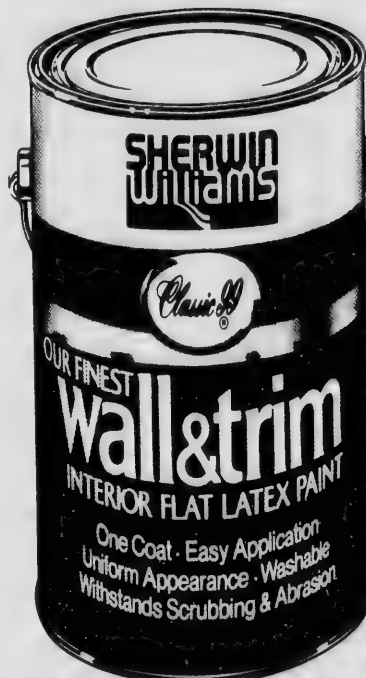

The final score doesn't show the good goal tending of Jim Berberian and Chris Hansberry, who faced a barrage of tough shots and made many fine saves.

Losing His Shirt

Russell Lewis, more determined to gain yardage than retain his shirt, eludes a couple of Austin Prep tacklers during Golden Warriors 28-0 win last Saturday at Lovely field. Paul Jamison (53) comes along to assist.

Warriors Stun Austin Prep, 28-0

Andover High's Golden Warriors chalked up their second win of the season Saturday, defeating Austin Prep 28-0 at Lovely Field.

Andover did all their scoring in the first half with two touchdowns each from senior tight end Jim Lacourse and senior halfback Mel Berger, with extra points added by junior Mike Reilly.

Andover outplayed Austin Prep in terms of total yards gained on offense, 135-66. Tom Walsh passed three for five, for 64 of Andover's yards, the remaining 71 being earned on the ground.

The first score came on a 61-yard passing play from Walsh to Lacourse with only 2:10 gone in the first period. Starting at their own 26 yard line, the Warriors advanced to their 39 on a run by Berger and a 12-yard pass to junior end Bob Heidt. Walsh then unleashed a strike over the middle to Lacourse who ran in for the score.

After an Austin Prep drive stalled, and the snap got away from punter Bob Landry, Andover took over at the Austin 20. Walsh ran the ball to the two on a keeper, senior Dave Nardone ran for one, Berger lost two, and then the ball was brought back to the eight on a penalty. Walsh lobbed a pass to Lacourse in the right corner of the endzone for the score.

Another Austin Prep drive stalled, and they punted the ball away to Berger who ran it back to the Prep 31. Runs by Berger and Nardone brought the ball down to the Austin one. With three seconds gone in the second period, Berger plunged in for the touchdown.

Austin Prep's Phillip Ragusa ran the following kickoff back to the Austin 31, but the ball was brought back to the 16 on a clip penalty. A run for two, a pass for three and run for minus one, and Austin Prep was punting again.

This time Andover struck quickly, with Berger running the ball back 71 yards for the score broken lose by Andover blocking, and leaving Austin defenders far behind in his dash for the goal line.

Just before the end of the half, Austin Prep managed to sustain a drive to the Andover 5 yard line with the help of two Andover personal four penalties. With first and ten from the Andover five, Austin only got to run one play, an incomplete pass, before the end of the half. It was Austin Prep's first venture of the game into Andover territory.

The second half was scoreless, with Andover substituting heavily on both offense and defense.

Berger was the game's leading ground-gainer with 101 yards.

Austin Prep earned seven first downs in the game to Andover's five, and ran 49 plays to the Warrior's 33. Prep may have been aided in terms of possession by An-

Warriors Draw And Playoff Hopes Dim

By Ben Bram

The Andover and Wilmington High School soccer teams played to a 1-1 draw last Saturday in a hard fought game. The Warriors held a one goal advantage and were playing superbly through three quarters, but pulled back a bit in the fourth, and final, quarter. The offensive opportunities that seemed to appear effortlessly in the first three periods, but were really the product of hard work, disappeared in the final quarter, as did the hopes of an Andover victory. With three minutes to play, Wilmington scored on a soft leader just over the outstretched arms of Jim Dowe, who played an otherwise outstanding game in net.

The Andover goal was the culmination of the hustling and aggressive play of the Warrior offense, particularly the forward line of Adam Roberts, Jake Powell, and Mike Sherman. The unassisted goal by Powell was only one of many outstanding chances created by the Warriors early in the game.

The tie to Wilmington, which gave the Warriors a 3-3-4 record, diminishes gravely the chances of the team's finishing second in the conference, and earning a spot in the State Tournament.

Highlighting the team's season thus far has been the excellent defensive play of Chuck Augello, Andy Kinsky, Paul Reichart, and Bob Wilkins. This unit will sorely miss the presence of hardworking captain Bill Donovan, who is out indefinitely with a badly broken nose. Jim Dowe's Stellar performance in goal, as a replacement for Jeff Nicastro, who, due to a broken finger, now plays center forward, has prevented a possible catastrophe in the Warrior defense.

The team travels to Methuen for a 7:30 game under the lights tomorrow night and would appreciate the full support of their fans at what looks to be a very tough contest.

Women's Tennis League Forming

The Andover Spring Tennis League is organizing eight teams for the spring season, which is scheduled for April 23 to June 18.

Each team will consist of four doubles teams, with 64 team players and any number of substitutes.

Any Andover women are eligible, upon payment of $2 in dues.

Further information is available from Cindy Dyer or Rose White of Andover. A general meeting will also be held in early March.

The entire league consists of 16 towns and four private tennis clubs: North Andover, Boxford, Topsfield, Bass River, Essex, Wakefield, Reading, Burlington, Wilmington, Manchester, Lynnfield, Winchester, Saugus, Peabody, Melrose and Haverhill, as well as Cedarvale, Tennis 128, North East and North Shore clubs.

Officers of the Andover League for 1979 are Norma Seifert, chairman; Mary Smith, secretary; and Gert Dearborn, treasurer, and officers for 1980 will be Cindy Dyer, chairman; Rose White, secretary; Gigi Hechemy, treasurer and Barbara Bamford, scribe.

Captains for 1979 are: A Team, Sue Ganem and Sheila Murphy; B Team, Kay Delucca; C-Div. I, Muriel Finlayson; C-Div. II, Rose White; C2-Div. I, Sylvila Chiang; C2-Div. II, Michael Beckerman; C3-Div. I, Jane Weiner and C3-Div. II, Marie Conconi.

C Team-Div. II mad the playoffs this year. The teams consisted of Fran Melia and Marilyn Kinsella, Ann Guerrera and Barbara Bamford, Rose White and Joan Rosenblatt, and Joy Lowe and Myrna Schoen.

Church Hoop League Registering

The Andover Church Basketball League is conducting registration for the 1979-80 season.

Representatives from the following churches are now signing up children for league play: Ballardvale United, Baptist, Christ, Free, Lutheran, St. Augustine's, St. Robert's, South and West Parish.

Youth who live in Andover and do not attend church, or youth who attend an Andover church that does not have a team, may register for league play. Registration forms are available at the above churches or may be obtained at the Sports Shop, 92A Main St., Andover.

Anyone interested in information concerning the league may contact League President Bob French.

dover's 11 penalties which gave Austin 90 yards total. Austin was penalized only three times for 30 yards.

The Andover defense plagued Austin quarterback Bob Landry all afternoon, allowing him to complete only 11 of 29 passes for 41 yards. He was sacked twice by sophomore guard Ken Hyslip.

The Andover Homecoming game will be played Saturday at Lovely Field against the Methuen Rangers at 1:30 p.m.

On Sunday, Nov. 4, the Department of Community Services will set out on a visit to the Museum of Science. The bus will leave the East Jr. High School at 11 a.m. When it reaches the Museum there will be two and a half hours to enjoy all the sights and sounds that the museum has to offer. It has everything from dinosaurs to chemistry to human physiology. At 3 p.m. the group goes into the planetarium for a 35 minute program about the stars, planets, astronomy and space properties. Children under 5, however, are not allowed in the planetarium, as a safety precaution by the museum. There will then be another half hour to visit that one more exhibition missed or to fill the hungry tummy or to visit the museum shop for a souvenir, before boarding the bus to come home.

49 THE TOWNSMAN, OCT

Witches and spiders and night-flying birds make an early appearance at Boston's Museum of Science on Friday evening, Oct. 26.

Presented between 6 and 10 p.m., the advance Halloween celebration offers two programs, "The Well-Equipped Witch," and "Creepy Crawlers," as well as demonstrations featuring Spooky, the owl, a bird traditionally associated with mysterious events.

"The Well-Equipped Witch" devises a number of special effects to create an appropriately sorcerous atmosphere. The Museum's "witch" explains the plants that were used for ancient philters and points out those that have medicinal value. The materials making up the witch's broom are also examined for their magical powers.

"Creepy Crawlers" highlights spiders, beetles, and tarantulas. These little animals, whose reputation for evil is undeserved, are examined with the aid of a large-scale projecting microscope. The program emphasizes their places in the chain of life on earth.

In addition to the demonstration of Spooky, the Museum's 28-year-old Great Horned owl, Halloween Night includes the regular Planetarium program, "The Universe of Dr. Einstein," given at 8 p.m. This program illustrates some of Einstein's theories which have been developed and expanded by present-day scientists.

In a make-up game with the Grizzlies, eleven Warriors undoubtedly played their best game of the season as the winning Grizzlies found their goal zone threatened on numerous occasions. The Warriors scored twice in the second quarter (Mark Paskowsky on a pass from Chris Comparato, and Stephen Holt) and the Grizzlies twice in the third quarter (Scott West-penalty shot and Marten Wennik on a pass from Paul Hevehan); both teams battled for the winning goal and when Mark Shapiro headed in the ball on a corner kick from Paul Hevehan, the Grizzlies won the points. BOW: David Nelson and Harold Gillam (Grizzlies) as well as the entire Warriors line-up.

Grizzlies 3 — Titans 0

BOW: Glen Smith and David Nelson (Grizzlies) as well as Brian Molloy and Robbie Teichert (Titans).

Rams 4 — Titans 1

The Spartans offensive line were very aggressive throughout the play and they were able to boot in five goals (Andy Glaser (3), one on a pass from Danny Sheehan, and Danny Sheehan (2), one on a pass from Andy Glaser and another on a pass from Charlie Lowe). The Rams found it difficult to penetrate the Spartans defensive line, although they did succeed in the final quarter when Paul Finnegan scored on a pass from Brian Sheehy. BOW: John Nardoza, Brian Sheehy and Mike Alden (Rams) as well as Andy Glaser and Danny Sheehan (Spartans).

In a make-up game with the Titans, the Rams held the edge since the Titans had only ten players on hand. The score was tied up at the end of the first half (John Nardoza on a pass from Nicky Bates, and Ralph Luciano); however, the embattled Titans could not thwart the Rams efforts to increase their lead and they booted in another three (Nicky Bates and John Nardoza, one on a pass from Brian Sheehy and another from Paul Finnegan) to win the points. BOW: Gordon Hannah, John Tremblay and Jeff Penner (Rams) as well as the entire Titans line-up.

LGH Rate Change Slight Despite High Inflation

Lawrence General Hospital's Executive Director Alton W. Noyes has announced that the Massachusetts Rate Setting Commission (RSC) approved changes in the hospital rates effective for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1.

Room rates have gone up $8. This makes the average rate for a semi-private room $121. per day.

By approving the hospital's new budget, RSC has agreed to LGH's 7% increase in room rates. This is well within State guidelines and considerably below the maximum allowed, according to Director of Fiscal Affairs Thomas F. Clancy. Special care units, the cardiac care unit, and the intensive care unit will carry a rate of $186. per day.

The last room rate change was in October, 1978 when semi-private rates were increased $8.

Compared to continuing national double-digit inflation figures, LGH's new annual budget increases are minimal. Even President Carter's proposed legislation includes maximum caps on increasing hospital rates which are high compared to the current LGH figures.

The single largest controlling factor is "actually just the cost of living" according to Clancy. "This is just a modest increase what with the cost of living increase being 13% nationally," he said.

During the past three years, as the cost of living and inflation have increased, hospitals have tried to keep their expenses under control without sacrificing the quality of care to their patients. According to Executive Director Noyes, hospitals nationwide averaged about 13% increase in expenses from 1978 to 1979. During that same period, Lawrence General's expenses rose an average of 8.7%. Noyes added that LGH will continue trying to keep its expenses under control. However, "it is becoming increasingly difficult to do so in light of the cost of goods and services we purchase and our understandable desire to treat our employees in a fair and equitable manner," he said.

The board and administrators at LGH, and officials of many health care organizations feel that there is a general misunderstanding of hospitals' financial difficulties.

Federal concern for inflation in the economy combined with an increasingly enlightened population of consumers is putting hospitals and other health care organizations into a tighter and tighter political, regulatory and financial squeeze.

"Hospitals are a regulated industry today, regulated by federal and state guidelines," Clancy explained. "These guidelines directly effect the quality of patient care."

"There are limits to what we can do for patients when the government limits our budgets so severely," he said.

Even as the government becomes more restrictive with hospital budgets, consumers continue to demand the highest quality medical care for themselves and their families, regardless of cost. Most patients have some sort of third-party coverage for medical payments. Therefore, the direct cost of services does not enter into the decision-making process of an individual requiring hospital care.

Fees for some ancillary services, like operating, recovery, and delivery rooms, anesthesiology and external fetal monitoring remain the same. Others which have increased are: radiology, laboratory, troencephalography (EEG). Rates for an-nuclear medicine, electrocardiography cillary services have increased an average (EKG), stress testing, and elec- of 7.6% from last year.

Residents Sought To Claim Accounts

Many Andover residents — or former ones — are among the tens of thousands of Massachusetts taxpayers who are due to receive some $10.8 million in un-claimed monies.

State Treasurer Robert Q. Crane released the names of owners of lost or forgotten checking accounts, savings accounts, cashier's checks, money orders and other funds, that range in size from $25 to $60,000.

Anyone whose name is listed should contact the Treasurer's office at 1-800-632-8144, or One Ashburton Place, Boston, between 9 and 5 on weekdays, so the claims can be processed.

Local residents on the list are: Diana Bowan, Gino Brogna, Audrey Brown, Judith Camasso, Frances L. Coffin, Thomas Doherty, Louise Dowd, Ealy, Christina Fiacchino, Carol Fisher, John Foley, Barbara Folley (Punchard High 1952), Marian Gaffny, (North Andover High 1944), Maryanne Hart, Madeline Higgins, Jane Hoffman, Emilia Kozdras, Douglas Lloyd, Richard G. Locke, Eric Maietta, George McCafferty (Sigma Alpha Epsilon), Thomas Media, Katherine Michael (two), Joshua Miner, Ethel Moran (J.R. Ashburn Const.), David Olivette, Philip Olivette, Douglas Pierce, Robert Poirier, (two), John J. Reilly, Jr., William Shaw, Daniel Shine, Jr., Marjorie Smith, (two), Mary Tetreault, Judith Webster, William Wilson, Barbara Winer (two).

All monies remaining un-claimed after Nov. 1, will be turned over to the Treasurer's office for safe keeping until the lawful owner can be located. These monies are permanently held in trust until claimed. However, all Massachusetts residents receive the benefit of their use since they are kept in the general fund.

As a result of investigations started two years ago by the Treasurer's auditors, un-claimed money reports have increased from $2.5 million to $10.8 million this year. "We are just scratching the surface, tens of millions of dollars remain to be reported," Crane said.

renovations of the building and discourage the tractor-trailer drivers he said sleep in their trucks in the lot behind the building at 186 North Main St.

Fred Graham, 14 Arundel St., warned that rezoning the property "general business" would give "a wide open license to these people." He said the owners would not have to make the building a professional office, and suggested that it might instead become a car dealership.

On other zoning articles, the town meeting voted to limit the height of hotels, and to place restrictions on food establishments allowed to open in town, specifically to prohibit so-called fast-food restaurants.

A private article suggesting the reduction of the requirements for non-wetlands on a buildable lot, was withdrawn.

The meeting appropriated $20,000 for bikeways which should be reimbursed by state and federal funds, and transferred about 12,000 square feet of woods near the playstead to the Andover Housing Authority for elderly and handicapped housing.

An appropriation of $51,000 was made to pay for energy conserving repairs to public buildings. The state and federal government should pay back $25,000 of that to the town. Buildings mentioned as needing the repairs most were the Bancroft School and the public safety building.

The meeting voted to allow the appointment of a zoning administrator by the Zoning Board of Appeals and confirmed by selectmen. This is a temporary measure until a charter amendment can be proposed which will make the zoning administrator an appointee of the town manager.

An article asking for the acceptance of Apple Blossom Way was withdrawn because selectmen had not had a chance to lay out the street.

Funds were allocated to pay unpaid bills.

Ownership of a five-foot strip of land across the front of 459 South Main St. was transferred to that property's owners, Michael and Elizabeth Lopez. The strip had been owned by the Bay State Street Railway, and had passed into the hands of the town. The transfer allows the Lopez's legal frontage on South Main Street.

The final action of the meeting was to allow for technical slip-ups in town meeting preparation without invalidating any action a town meeting might take.

for the Providence College 1979-80 Loyalty Fund, which has a goal of $525,000.

Finneran, a 1953 graduate of Providence College, is editor of the Andover Townsman weekly newspaper. Currently the president of the Providence College National Alumni Association, Finneran is also a past Grand Knight of the Msgr. Shea Council of the Knights of Columbus and is vice-president of the Massachusetts Press Association.

The annual fund-raising drive was established in 1942 to provide the college with funds for scholarships, emergency assistance to students, library books, teaching aids, improvement of campus services, and other expenses. Last year's goal of $425,000 was exceeded by nearly $46,000 through a system of personal, phone and mail solicitations of Providence's alumni, parents of undergraduates and friends of the college.

a Mercedes-Benz station wagon.

The 300TD. Before it could be a Mercedes-Benz station

It can be steered precisely like a car even when heavily of a Diesel engine.

It is, in short, pure Mercedes-Benz.

Four Tons Oil

The head of a sperm whale is one-quarter of its total length of 60 feet. Above the upper jaw is a mass of oil-filled connective tissue which can contain four tons of oil, Massachusetts Audubon says. The oil enables the whale to remain neutrally buoyant (same density as the surrounding water) when it is submerged up to 80 minutes, the longest submersion for a marine 57 mammal.

PROPERTY TAX LOSES AT POLL

According to a recent survey by Opinion Research Corporation for the U. S. Government on the average citizen's opinion on taxes, it will come as no surprise that the results showed that the least popular tax of all was the property tax. The purpose of the survey was to find out attitudes on the proposed value-added tax, property tax, income tax and sales tax.

Although no particular tax received a resounding approval, it was a clear-cut message that American's major complaint with our fiscal system lies with the property tax. When queried as to which tax was the "least fair", 45 percent selected the property tax, the federal income tax placed a far second with a 19 percent disapproval.

On the subject of raising more state revenue, 71 percent preferred increasing taxes on sales or income. On raising more federal funds, 70 percent of those polled indicated the best method would be to eliminate tax loopholes.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

include Korean veterans was discussed late last night at a meeting of the town's four veterans' organizations and the trustees of the fund. The fund is used to assist veterans and their dependents in cases of need not covered by state and federal benefits.

Judge Carol G. Hinks, a native of Andover and graduate of Phillips Academy, has been named to the second circuit court of appeals by President Eisenhower.

Andover's quota for the 1954 community chest campaign will be $27,120.

It is intended to have the revaluation done on computer, in order that the records can be more easily maintained.

Proposals were asked to be provided in two forms, one using the town computer system, the alternate, using the company's computer and providing the tapes to the town.

Three firms submitted proposals on both: Systems Technology Associates, Inc., Concord, $243,730 and $218,730; General Appraisal Co., Cincinnati, Ohio, $192,250 and $205,750; PCR Jacobs Co., McLean, Va., $210,168 and $180,168.

Two firms presented proposals only on using their own computer and providing tapes: Cole, Laver Prumpold, Dayton, Ohio, $239,000 and Magee and Magaen, Wilmington, $198,300.

10 Years Ago — October 1969

A special town meeting which began a week ago Monday will reconvene this coming Monday at 7:30 p.m. in Memorial Auditorium under the threat of another lack of a quorum. There are still close to 20 articles to be acted upon including providing water and sewer lines to the new Raytheon plant in West Andover.

The Vietnam Moratorium Peace day, being observed Wednesday, was without incident locally through late Wednesday afternoon. A peace vigil was scheduled for Wednesday night at Memorial Park beginning at 7 p.m.

School committee members honored former Supt. of Schools Edward I. Erickson and Mrs. Erickson recently at a dinner in his honor at the Lanam Club. Mr. Erickson, who retired in August, was presented a gift by the committee members following the dinner.

Two members of the Andover police department were honored last week at a testimonial dinner held at Briarcliff, the Knights of Columbus home on Osgood Street, as they retired after several years of service. Ptl. William Stewart and Ptl. James Gorrie were presented gifts by selectmen and the police chief.
